Award for Outstanding Undergraduate Scholars

The Undergraduate Research Experience (URE) Steering Committee is seeking nominations from faculty and staff for the annual FHSU Award for Outstanding Undergraduate Scholars.

The URE Steering Committee offers this prestigious award to recognize undergraduate students who exemplify scholarly activity. Qualities that make a student successful in scholarly activities characterize those same qualities FHSU seeks to develop in students: original thought, creative ideas, communicating with professional colleagues, critical reasoning, analysis of research, translation of evidence into practice, and first-hand knowledge of how work is performed within a professional discipline.

The URE Steering Committee will provide five awards, one for an outstanding undergraduate student from each college. Nomination letters can come from FHSU faculty or staff, and should be submitted through this website no later than April 1, 2021. Any FHSU undergraduate student--including KAMS/AMS and FHSU Online students--is eligible. The research project may be from the award year or past years; however, the student must have been an undergraduate student for a minimum of one semester during the award year. The nomination should describe the scholarly qualifications and products of the student--for example, published papers, professional presentations, on-campus research activities, musical/artistic performance, or other novel scholarly activity. The nomination should clarify the role of the undergraduate student in the scholarly activity. The nominator should also include the nominee's CV or resume.

Nominations will be evaluated by a subcommittee of the URE Steering Committee, who will make a recommendation to the full URE Steering Committee. Winners will be recognized during Undergraduate Research Week in April 2021.

For more information, and to submit a nomination, please go to:
<https://fhsu.infoready4.com/CompetitionSpace/#manageCompetitionsDetail/1834465>

Please contact Leslie Paige at lp Paige@fhsu.edu with any questions.

Save the Date! Multidisciplinary Research Virtual Tea

The Scholarship Environment Committee (SEC) is hosting a Virtual Tea, Thursday, April 8th, from 3:00 to 4:30 pm.

In the tradition of afternoon tea, a brief social gathering enjoyed with a light snack, join us for a virtual tea with the purpose of connecting colleagues across FHSU around central themes and research methodologies to promote multidisciplinary projects. Pour yourself a cup of tea, and join a virtual tea room which is designed for 30-minute conversations on a specific topic with the goal of generating collaborative research projects that draw scholars from across FHSU disciplines.

During this event, SEC members will host topical tea rooms focusing on two themes: Primary Research Interests and Research Methodologies. See the registration link for more information on tea rooms.

Please REGISTER for the event and select one topical tea room from each theme. See the registration link for more details on the tea rooms for each theme.

Celebrating Tiger Traditions: A Kit Kat Hatstravaganza

Friday, April 9th; 9:00am-11:00am (Central Time)

Main Level of Forsyth Library

Gear Up for #TGOF and make your own Kit Kat Hat! Choose a hat style and select from a variety of accessories to customize your commemorative piece of tiger history.

Are you an online or remote student but still interested in participating? A Kit Kat Hat supply set will be mailed to the first 20 students who register at <http://bit.ly/KitKatHats>.

Reminiscent of a tradition from the early to mid 1900s, hats commonly referred to as "freshman beanies" or "dinks" were worn by underclassmen as a way to show school spirit. Examples of old "kits kat hats" are found in the Memorabilia Collection in the University Archives. Celebrate this tiger tradition with a hatstravaganza event sponsored by Forsyth Library.

Agile EQ: Understanding Emotional Intelligence

Tuesday, April 20th; 8:30am-12:00pm

FHSU Memorial Union - Trails Room

Price: $119 (Hays Chamber & FHSU Alumni discount available)

In today's fast-paced world of competitive workplaces and chaotic personal lives, each of us is searching for effective tools that can make our schedules, behaviors, and relationships more manageable. Agile emotional intelligence (EQ) is the ability to read the emotional and interpersonal needs of a situation and respond accordingly. Developing your EQ can improve your interactions, productivity, and outcomes. There are different ways to be emotionally intelligent. Some of these ways will come naturally to you. Others are more of a stretch. Learning to stretch to different mindsets gives you the agility to adapt your responses to whatever situation you're facing.

First Impressions Matter: A Customer Service Workshop

Wednesday, May 5th; 1:00pm-4:00pm

FHSU Memorial Union - Trails Room

Price: $119 (Hays Chamber & FHSU Alumni discount available)

This training will assist participants in implementing a service culture within their organization. The workshop will also help develop individual professional and personal aptitudes in the areas of customer service, telephone etiquette, communication/listening, written and email communication.

CliftonStrengths Essentials (Virtual)

Tuesday, May. 25-26th; 9:00-12:00pm (both days)

Virtual Event

Price: $219 (Hays Chamber & FHSU Alumni discount available)

Is it best to spend time utilizing your strengths or is it more productive to work on your weaknesses? Gallup's Strengths theory claims people should spend the majority of their time doing what they do best; using their already existing natural talents to become more productive and profitable in the workplace and at home. In this workshop, we will explore your natural talents and how to turn those talents into strengths, while also learning how to recognize talents in others and utilize them for the success of the team. This workshop requires some pre-work. This workshop will be held via Zoom video conferencing.

A link to join the virtual Zoom sessions will be sent to you prior to the workshop.*

WORKDAY ANNOUNCEMENTS

Z-Course Tag in Workday

Starting Fall 2021, 94 courses (156 sections) will be offered with a z-course or z-course (fee waived) tag. These z-course tags can be found in Workday to indicate that the course has elected to use zero-cost course materials which students can access for free, instead of purchasing traditional textbooks. To find z-courses, follow these Workday instructions.

What do the z-course tags mean?

Students taking a "z-course" will pay a $12 fee, in place of textbook costs, to contribute into a cost-sharing model. Over time, this cost sharing model helps incentivize faculty and departments to convert more courses to use zero-cost course materials which continues the cycle of textbook savings. Learn more about the z-course program here: <https://fhsu.edu/oer/z-courses/z-course-designation>

Courses labeled "z-course (fee waived)" have decided to waive the $12 cost sharing fee.

As you begin enrollment and registration for students in the coming weeks, please be aware of these course tags and how they may help save your students from the rising costs of textbooks and ensure that they have access to the required course materials on day one. Please direct any questions about the z-course designation and z-course program to Claire Nickerson, cenickerson@fhsu.edu.

New Workshops for Spring Schedules

The Department of Criminal Justice has added two one-credit hour workshops to the spring schedule, open to students of any major:

CRJ 100 B Workshop in Criminal Justice: Mental Health First Aid

This course explores different training models available for increasing knowledge, assessing for safety, and responding to mental illness. Students in this course will learn how to help someone developing a mental health problem or experiencing a mental health crisis by assessing for suicide risk, listening non-judgmentally, giving assurance and information, encouraging professional help, and finally, encouraging self-help. Successful completion of the course will result in certification in Mental Health First Aid (MHFA).

CRJ 100 C Workshop in Criminal Justice: De-escalation Training

This course introduces students to Marston's (1928) DISC personality model, the most popular and broadly accepted personality model in the world. Advancements to this model, developed in 2014, offer the most comprehensive, innovative, evidence-based experiential de-escalation training available anywhere. Students enrolled in this course will be trained in the first and only nationally certified training program to incorporate personality modeling and threat stage recognition. Students will learn to take actions based on one's personality and adjust to needs of those in crisis. In addition, students will learn to employ best practice de-escalation methods, including to convey respect, permit venting and use active listening. Finally, students will learn how to respond to active or passive threats and de-escalate more efficiently and safely.

Both of these workshops are appropriate for any student pursuing a career in the social or behavioral sciences, nursing, education, and others. Contact the Department of Criminal Justice at criminaljustice@fhsu.edu with any questions regarding either course.

Big Event 2021 – Live on TigerLink!

FHSU's Student Government Association is gearing up for their 10th Annual Big Event, which is scheduled for Saturday, April 24th, 2021. The Big Event 2021 is all about “serving smiles” in a safe way. The purpose of the Big Event is to give our students the opportunity to say thank you to the community that supports them throughout the year in a “big” way. Working alongside SGA to help provide students this opportunity to say thank you is the Fort Hays State University Foundation and Student Engagement. Of course, the event will look slightly different this year due to COVID-19 rules and restrictions, but SGA is prepared to take every precaution in order to make this event as great as it has been in the past.

Unlike in recent years, throughout the day there are going to be four two-hour long shifts that students can volunteer for so we can assure we are creating the safest environment for everyone. SGA realizes there is a risk with our volunteers coming into businesses and facilities, but we have come up with a solution for individuals who want our help but are not willing to meet in person. SGA is also allowing you to provide service projects that can be done from a distance to insure we are helping in the safest way possible. The Big Event is an opportunity for our students and community to witness the unique relationship that they have with one another and this year, they are even more excited to bring joy and happiness during these hard times.

For any questions, please contact sga.crd@fhsu.edu or call our office at 785-628-5311.
